'Cease-Fire' Order Given Government Troops In China

Peace Mission To Be Sent To Communists In Effort To Halt Civil War

TRUCE CONTINUES FOR NEGOTIATIONS (BULLETIN)

NANKING, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The Chinese government today ordered its battle-weary troops to cease fire and decided to send a peace mission to the Communists.

The cease fire, which went into effect tonight, is to continue while Nationalist peace emissaries meet with the Reds to discuss a settlement in China's bitter civil war.

Reuters reported that conservative members of the cabinet bitterly denounced the cease fire order, declaring:

"Means Surrender"

"This means surrender." (Reuters said that Premier Sun Fo, however, argued that there is no other way of solving the government's deteriorating position, and threatened to resign if the war were continued.)

It was learned that the government's executive Yuan (cabinet) decided at a meeting in Nanking today to order its forces to stop all military action, effective immediately, and to remain in present positions.

The Chinese cabinet also called for immediate dispatch of representatives to the Communist-held areas of North China for peace talks.

Numerous Truce Rumors
Continued Nationalist defeats on the battlefields have sparked truce rumors and peace moves for more than a month. The decision to cease fire came after the United

Pa Newc Observes

While going home from work Tuesday afternoon, one of Pa Newc's family heard and saw a robin.

March-like winds after midnight last evening were felt throughout the city, with some damage done in many quarters by the unusual blasts. At least one television antenna in the city was blown down, garbage cans were bowled about and large limbs from trees were felled.

Some mother is evidently wondering what happened to the lower portion of her young child's snow suit. The pretty blue missing part of the suit hung on a mail box in the vicinity of the Post Office on Tuesday evening awaiting its owner.

Just two weeks from today will be traditional ground-hog day. With the open winter which has been observed, the old fellow should be wide awake by February 2.

With the frost out of the ground, local property owners are having difficulty in keeping their lawns in shape for the growing season next spring. Youngsters and older ones who take short cuts over the lawns usually sink in, which plays havoc with the yards. Generally the yards are pretty well frozen at this time of the year and walking on them does little damage.

Thus far during the winter, snow fences erected by the highway department about the county have had little call for service due to the small amount of snow that has fallen. The 22 miles of fence stands in place though, ready to keep main highways and other roads from drifting if a heavy dry snow should fall in the area.

Salary Boosts For Major State Officials Likely

HARRISBURG, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The pay pattern for increasing salaries was impressed today on the general assembly with a bill calling for substantial boosts for major state officials.

The governor's $15,000-a-year salary would be tilted to $30,000 while the lieutenant governor's would be upped from $8,000 to $15,000.

The state treasurer and auditor general would be increased from $12,000 to $15,000 a year while the secretary of internal affairs would be boosted from $10,000 to $15,000. The state police commissioner would be raised from $8,000 to $15,000.

Appointive cabinet officials, whose salaries now range between $10,000 and $12,000 a year, each would receive $15,000 under the senate proposal co-sponsored by Republican Senators Fred P. Hare, of Somerset; James A. Geltz, of Allegheny; and Charles R. Mallory, of Blair.

The increased salaries would affect the superintendent of public instruction, the adjutant general, the insurance commissioner and the secretaries of agriculture, banking, forests and waters, mines, highways, health, labor and industry, property and supplies, welfare, commerce, public assistance and revenue.

Another provision of the bill would increase the $5,000 salary for workmen's compensation referees to $7,500.

Bevin Evades Criticism Of His Policies

Stays Away From Secret Meeting Of His Own Party Members

LONDON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin sidestepped criticism of his Palestine policy by members of his own party today by staying away from a secret party meeting.

Reliable sources said that Bevin sent word to a closed meeting of labor members of parliament that he stayed away because he had nothing to add to his statement in parliament yesterday.

Many "rebel" Laborites, who had come prepared to assail Bevin's Near Eastern policy, grumbled. A large contingent immediately walked out of the meeting, disregarding the fact that many subjects were on the agenda.

Back Contention
A large majority of labor M.P.'s, however, were said to have backed Bevin's contention that negotiations now taking place between Israel and three Arab states are in a delicate stage and should not be disturbed.

Bevin's decision to release Jews of military age interned on the island of Cyprus in the Mediterranean is known to have mollified his party critics.

Well-informed circles believed that past antagonism regarding his Palestine and Middle Eastern policies in general will lessen gradually, particularly in view of the likelihood that Britain soon will recognize Israel.

Acheson Ready To Take Office

Newly Appointed Secretary Of State Is Given Senate Approval

MAY BE SWORN IN THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—Dean Acheson is expected to move quickly to streamline the state department after he is sworn in as the new secretary.

Acheson was confirmed by the senate to succeed General George C. Marshall in the post. The vote of 47 to 45 against the legislation. Opposition to the House-approved bill, which would have exempted tickets for the inaugural entertainment events from the Federal amusement tax, caught the democratic majority flat-footed.

House majority leader McCormack (D-Mass.), suggested that the Inaugural Committee ask persons attending the events to make "voluntary contributions" in the amount of the Federal tax. He said this would prevent any loss falling on the inaugural committee.

Lucas predicted that a deficiency appropriation would be laid back in the lap of Congress to make up any loss. He insisted that the inaugural committee was advised to go ahead with sale of tickets on a tax-exempt basis on the theory that Congress would authorize the exemption it had given in the past.

The votes of Byrd and five other Democrats who lined up with Republicans to defeat the inauguration tax-exemption bill, called the "upset," a "demonstration that we still can assert ourselves on some issues."

Truman-Barkley Club Dinner Starts Program For Inauguration

Truman Has Warning Senate Control Margin Is Dangerously Thin

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—Republicans and southern Democrats handed President Truman an inaugural-evening warning today that his margin of Senate control is dangerously thin on economic issues.

Sen. Byrd (D) Va., one of the Democrats who lined up with Republicans to defeat the inauguration tax-exemption bill, called the "upset," a "demonstration that we still can assert ourselves on some issues."

The votes of Byrd and five other Democrats gave the GOP minority its surprise victory. The tally was 47 to 45 against the legislation. Opposition to the House-approved bill, which would have exempted tickets for the inaugural entertainment

'Cloudy Issues' Being Probed In Baker Death

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 19.—(INS)—States Attorney William D. Hopkins declared today that there are "cloudy issues" in the shooting of banking heir Grenville Baker, which call for a re-questioning of the three witnesses to his death.

The prosecutor said that he will re-examine the 27-year-old waitress who was Baker's companion on his "death ride" without waiting for an FBI report on clues sent to federal laboratories in Washington.

Also to be questioned, Hopkins said, are the convicted Tennessee bootlegger and his wife who took Baker and the waitress on a round of taverns before the mysterious killing.

The states attorney indicated that he has found several points in the stories told by the three which demand immediate clarification.

Truman To Get Salary Boost

President Signs Measure Increasing His Own And Other Salaries

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—President Truman today signed into law a bill boosting his pay by $75,000 a year.

The measure, passed by the House Monday, increases the President's salary from $75,000 to $100,000 annually and gives him a tax-exempt expense account of $50,000 per year.

With the $40,000 the President already receives for traveling and entertainment expenses, the bill brings the chief executive's annual compensation to $190,000. He must account for the $40,000 fund, however.

The legislation also raises the pay of Vice President Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn from $20,000 to $30,000 a year. In addition, they will get an annual $10,000 expense allotment.

Ponzi Had $125 At Time Of Death

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The sum of $125 was all that got-rich-quick promoter Charles Ponzi saved of the millions he swindled from United States investors.

This was made known today when friends of Ponzi saved him from a pauper's grave by paying $75 for his funeral. The Italian-born emigrant, who was deported from the U. S. after his fantastic "paper empire" collapsed, died in a Brazilian hospital charity ward Saturday.

The remaining $50 of Ponzi's life savings were given to a blind friend Ponzi made in the hospital.

A speculator in foreign exchange, Ponzi served seven years in prison for mail fraud.

Good Weather Promised For Inauguration

Excited Throngs In Washington Await President Truman's Inauguration Thursday

HUGE CROWDS IN CAPITAL FOR DAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—There's a great day coming tomorrow and the excited city of Washington expects President Truman's inauguration to outdo all previous occasions of the kind in size, splendor and spirit.

The great, the near-great and the plain people from Washington ranks Harry S. Truman came are present in vast numbers already and the crowds are increasing by the hour, the bands are starting to blare and the capital has a giant-sized case of happy jitters.

Beaming like a kid on Christmas eve, Mr. Truman last night got his rugged round of inaugural appearances off to an auspicious start. The president made an off-the-cuff talk at the Truman-Barkley club dinner and the ovation he received just about rattled the plates off the banquet table.

Mighty Busy Man
The chief executive, heading toward the big moment on the steps of the United States capitol at high noon tomorrow, is a mighty busy man today. But so are a lot of other people who are putting the finishing touches on the inaugural extravaganza.

The railroads have 69 special trains rolling into Washington today and tomorrow. Airlines are jammed, highways are clogged. The oldest inhabitants of the nation's capital say they've never seen anything quite like it.

Weather Outlook
Uncle Sam's No. 1 weather man, a fellow named Francis W. Reichelderfer, says the inauguration day skies will be cloudy but rainless, the temperature coolish but not bitterly cold. His forecast was welcomed by the million-plus who will watch the inaugural parade.

President To Strive Hard For World Peace

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—President Truman today approached his inauguration as the nation's 33rd chief executive with a solemn promise to make every effort to attain world peace during the next four years.

Mr. Truman, who will take the oath for a full, four year term tomorrow, made his pledge before a wildly demonstrative throng of 2,500 Democrats at his first formal appearance of inauguration week.

To assume Burden
The president declared that, "we are faced with a serious situation." But, he said in words weighted with solemnity:

"We are going to assume that burden, and we are going to do our best to carry out the things that are necessary to meet the situation (Continued on Page Two)

Battery D Boys At Washington For Inaugural

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The "boys of Battery D" rolled into Washington today to take a rousing part in the inauguration of President Truman, their World War I commanding officer.

Flourishing canes and lustily cheering for "Captain Harry", more than 100 members of the field artillery outfit the President led into combat a little over 20 years ago arrived by special train from Kansas City.

They'll march as a special guard of honor for the chief executive at the inaugural parade, and they'll have breakfast with Mr. Truman at seven a. m. (EST) tomorrow, first event on his inauguration day schedule.

Yard Goods—Main Floor

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18.—If you are a movie fan there's a Ford in your future.

Dorothy Ford is not only one of the prettiest dollies in the film dodge, there is more of her.

The luscious six-foot glamazon finally has convinced the movie moguls that she is a dramatic actress, even if she is the biggest thing in Hollywood, physically speaking.

Destined For Stardom

In a few fortnights you'll be ganderizing her latest picture, "3 Godfathers." It's her first co-starring dramatic role—and critics who have seen sneak runs of the flicker candidly confess that a new star will be born when the Nation's movie-goers get a glimpse of it.

"I get to kiss John Wayne in the picture," Dottie said. "And for the first time I win the hero."

Producer John Ford (no relation) telephoned the king-size cutie a few days ago immediately after watching a preview of "3 Godfathers," of which he was boss-man.

"Ford," he said, "this is Ford. You stole the movie from Wayne. Come on out to the studio in the morning and let's talk over a new contract."

Rush Is On

The Hollywood grapevine picks up things sharper and faster than radar. When the word got out that Miss Ford is slightly less than terrific in her latest screen effort, various and sundry producers started making pitches at Dorothy's agent, trying to latch onto the stately brunette for future film epics.

To date, seven studios are pag-ing her. Dorothy is reading scripts like crazy trying to make up her mind.

Meanwhile, the six-foot siren from Santa Barbara, Calif., continues to take her daily singing lessons and daily tennis tutoring. She is generally recognized as the hottest tennis player in the film colony. Bill Tilden, one of her coaches, is certain she could be national woman champ within two years.

Comedy Is Out

Did you see "One Sunday Afternoon?" Her role as zany Ben Blue's wife was so funny and provoked so many fan letters that Warner Brothers are planning to co-star the couple in a series of comedies.

But after winning her dramatic spurs in "3 Godfathers," Miss Ford undoubtedly will concentrate on serious subjects.

At any rate, would-be wits no longer ask her, "How's the weather up there?"

They all know. The weather up there is fine—and the forecast is that Dorothy Ford will soon be the biggest thing in pictures, literally and figuratively.

Highway Program Will Be Outlined

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Estimates of Pennsylvania's material needs for highway construction during 1949 will be discussed tomorrow at a meeting in Harrisburg of state highway officials and more than 350 road-building representatives.

State Highway Secretary Ray F. Smock and members of his staff will outline the commonwealth's program. Material requirements for the eastern extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike will be outlined to material contractors by George A. Rahn, turnpike materials engineer.

State Industrial Accidents Drop

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—(INS)—Industrial accidents dropped to the lowest point for the year during November, 1948, when 8,889 injuries were reported.

The department of labor and industry reported that 86 fatalities were reported during the month, seven under the preceding month and five below the monthly average for 1948.

Injuries were 13.4 per cent lower than October, 1948, and were 10.1 per cent less than the monthly average.

Non-manufacturing industries accounted for 65 per cent of all fatalities and 60 per cent of all injuries, the department said.

Government Of China Moving From Nanking

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The State Department was informed today that the Chinese government is moving from Nanking to Canton.

The United States will consult immediately with other governments to determine whether the foreign embassies also will go to the south China city.

Acting Secretary of State Lovett made the announcement today but declined to comment on the cease fire order issued by Chiang Kai-shek's government and the projected peace talks with the communists.

Lovett said that no official report had been made on these latter developments.

D.P. Law Topic At Section Program

Revisions Needed, Mrs. Alex Lowenthal Tells Council Of Jewish Women

The plight of the displaced person and enactment of adequate legislation in his behalf was the timely subject of Mrs. Alex Lowenthal of Pittsburgh in her address before the New Castle section of the National Council of Jewish Women in Temple Israel Tuesday evening.

Introduced by Mrs. Simon Skole, chairman of service to foreign born, Mrs. Lowenthal, who served on the national citizens D. P. committee and the Allegheny county civil rights commission, called for amendment to the law passed by the eightieth Congress. "This is must legislation," she said. "It has the directive of President Truman. The eighty-first Congress must liberalize D. P. legislation which is unjust to those who suffered most."

The United States has long been a haven for the distressed and persecuted of other lands, and an aroused conscience has charged this nation with moral responsibility to revise the present restrictive discriminatory legislation on five points.

Suggested Revisions

1. Correct the cut-off date, which will classify as D. P. internees of concentration camps as late as January, 1949;
2. Eliminate the preference given Sudetan Germans who have no basis in need over other victims;
3. Increase the number of eligible outside quota restrictions;
4. End the discriminatory factor of occupation, e. g., farmers preferred;
5. End the need for assurance of a home and a job.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Alex Samuels, opened with a salute to the flag and prayer read by Mrs. Abe Cohen.

An invitation was read to attend an afternoon conference in the chamber room of the Pittsburgh City Council and a dinner meeting in the William Penn hotel on fair employment practices, the conference being one sponsored by the Allegheny county civil rights committee.

Council members will sew for Jameson Memorial hospital on Wednesdays during February from nine a. m. to noon.

Announcement was made that the annual state conference will take place in Wilkes-Barre May 2-4.

There will be a meeting of the joint study group in the home of Mrs. Abe Cohen, Northview avenue, on Wednesday.

Hostesses were Mrs. Abe Newmark, Mrs. Joseph Moresky, Mrs. Harry Moresky, Mrs. Ben Moresky, Mrs. Joseph Mirow, Mrs. Lew Miller, Mrs. Israel Meyers, Mrs. Sidney Meyers, Mrs. James Meyers and Mrs. Ted Marlin.

with which we are faced, in this country and the world—to get the peace that we need and that we are going to have."

The chief executive's words were spoken last night to a huge group of Democrats from all parts of the nation who had believed in him, and who financed his campaign when many others thought he was leading another "lost cause."

These were the leaders of the Truman-Barkley clubs, who formed groups to raise funds for the Democratic campaign a few months ago when people were saying Mr. Truman could not possibly win.

It was to these teeming, boisterous hundreds jam-packed into the Mayflower hotel and celebrating their victory, that Mr. Truman chose to voice his credo and hopes for the next four years.

crew of the East Wind—which took part in Admiral Byrd's most recent Antarctic expedition—was "unaccounted for."

The coast guard emphasized, however, that this might mean only that the missing men are aboard other ships which have not reported.

The Gulfstream, although also set afire in the early morning collision, managed to bring its flames under control and proceeded under its own power toward Philadelphia.

Scene of the crash was approximately 60 miles southeast of Barnegat (N. J.) lights. It occurred in dense fog at 4:30 a. m. A low wind and relatively calm seas aided the rescue work.

tions and the inaugural committee has received an aching noggins, courtesy of congress. The senate refused to approve sale of tax-exempt tickets to inauguration events and the committee now has a 'noty' bookkeeping problem. Seems the tickets were sold without tax stubs.

Thousands To Celebrate
But that doesn't trouble the celebrants. Who today are thronging Pennsylvania avenue and other historic thoroughfares, hoping to snatch a glimpse of the president or Vice President-elect Barkley—who definitely is no forgotten man.

One of the noisiest special trains to hit Washington was the rattler carrying the Kentucky delegation, honoring the favorite son of the Blue Grass state, good, gray Alben Barkley, as staunch a Democrat as ever voted the party ticket.

Political leaders from all parts of the U. S. A. are rubbing—and bending—elbows with luminous names of Hollywood and Manhattan who will perform in tonight's inaugural gala concert at the National Guard Armory.

Many Grandstands
Pennsylvania avenue, the "avenue of presidents", is lined with grandstands for parade viewers. The thoroughfare itself has been bathed with a chemical preparation and looks as clean as a mountain stream—almost.

The housing problem is acute. By 10 a. m. tomorrow 750,000 visitors are expected. Since they can't be crammed into the capital's 9,000 hotel rooms, many of them are being quartered in private dwellings.

These are the homes

These are the people

THESE are the people who own your electric light and power company. Chances are you are one of this group, too.

They represent a cross-section of America — housewives, doctors, teachers — industrial workers, craftsmen, farmers — mechanics and milkmen. Yes, people from all walks of life have put their savings into companies like ours. They're direct owners.

But there are countless indirect owners, too — many who don't know they have a stake in the electric industry. They're people with life insurance policies and savings accounts. When banks and insurance companies accept your money, they must invest it wisely. And because business-managed electric companies have a long record of successful service, much of that money is invested in utility securities.

So, you see, the electric industry is owned by the people it serves.

Court Restricts Airport Flying

Takeoffs And Landing Over Reynolds Home Are Limited To 130 Feet

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Planes taking off from the New Castle airport or landing there must be 130 feet from ground level when they fly over the home of former Sheriff and Mrs. Harrison M. Reynolds.

This is the substance of an order handed down Tuesday afternoon by Judge W. Walter Braham in his adjudication of a case that has been before the court for some time.

The case was that of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds against Finley C. Wilson, trading as the Wilson Aviation company and the Penn-Aero Services, Inc. The Reynolds asked that the companies be enjoined from flying their planes over the Reynolds home which is directly across the road from the airport on Route 224.

In the testimony taken, Mr. Reynolds testified that the roar of the engines shook the house and endangered health. The home is directly in line of flight for planes taking off or landing on the port. Judge Braham directed that planes fly no lower than 130 feet from ground level on the take-off or landing and when in other types of flight must be 500 feet from ground level.

ADJUST RETIREMENT PLAN

The county retirement plan has been adjusted by the county commissioners and is thought to be in proper shape now. Under the adjustment employees are eligible to enter the retirement system immediately upon assuming office or entering an appointed job in the court house.

Retirement benefits are payable at age 65. Where an employee leaves before age 65 he or she has the option of getting their own contributions back plus 2½ per cent interest or of taking a paid up policy which will bring them a retirement allowance equivalent to what the contributions paid at the time of the leaving will bring. The cash surrender value in which both county and employee's contributions went to persons leaving the service before age 65 is out.

ANOTHER 'YOUNGEST' LAWYER

The title of "youngest" lawyer at the bar in this county is a title which has shifted frequently in the past six months. The title now belongs to Herman L. Feldman, of Ellwood City, who has been admitted to practice.

In the case of Mr. Feldman he has a double barreled claim to the title of youngest. He is but twenty-three years of age, the youngest man to be admitted in many years. He is a graduate of the New Castle high school, the University of Pittsburgh and the law school of the University of Pittsburgh. His admission brings the total of practicing attorneys in Ellwood City to seven.

IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS

If disaster such as fire should ever hit the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, the damage would be terrific. The likelihood of fire is far fetched inasmuch as the office is fireproof but looking at the thousands of records filed there it gives rise to wonder what would be the result if fire destroyed them.

All the marriage licenses issued since the passage of the act in 1885 are in the office. The records of all notes, judgments, chattel mortgages and bonds are recorded and if destroyed would result in heavy financial loss and inconvenience.

The rooms of the prothonotary and clerk of courts are fireproofed as well as it is humanly possible.

Sixteen inch firewalls guard them from the rest of the building, heavy concrete floors bar fire from the basement and fire windows and a fire door bar the openings.

The records for the most part are in steel boxes. The likelihood of fire is remote, but such a possibility gives rise to a lot of imagination.

NO SALE

Twelve pieces of property offered for sale at an "upset" price by the county commissioners on Tuesday brought no bidders.

A petition will now be made to court to divest the properties of all liens and a public sale directed. Under the law an "upset" price includes all taxes, penalties and interest. Any lien against the property rides with the sale. Once the liens are divested the sale price will give the purchaser a clear title.

2,500 DOG LICENSES

Approximately 2,500 dog licenses had been sold by the county treasurer as of Tuesday afternoon and the clerks in County Treasurer Neal's office have been busy. This number is thought to be a little less than 25 per cent of the dogs in the county. Dog owners who do not license their pets are liable to a $25 fine.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Something akin to a stroke of genius was seen today in the report obtained by Mediators Ralph J. Bunche from Israel to evacuate Egyptian troops trapped at the Faluja Garrison in the Negev "with full military honors."

This implied recognition of the fact that the Egyptian army does not merit the ridicule it has suffered in the Palestinian war may go a far way indeed to setting off a "chain reaction" of peace in the entire middle east.

Of Enormous Importance
For pride and prestige have been of enormous importance in the conflict since the beginning and the Arab character, quick to take offense and slow to forgive, has been a dominant factor.

King Farouk of Egypt played for high stakes when he decided to engage the Israelis on disputed territory of the vast and inhospitable Negev desert.

He apparently felt quite convinced that his army was fully capable of taking on the troops of the infant Jewish state without asking assistance from Great Britain as he might have done under the treaty of 1936.

Basis For Action
This apparently was based upon a number of suppositions including the following:

1—King Abdullah's Arab Legion "pulled its punches" on occasion for political reasons based upon Britain's awkward position with respect to this force and to United Nations pledges.

2—He apparently felt that his seasoned troops had distinct advantages, such as knowledge of the terrain and difficult desert fighting conditions, especially as the Jews of Israel only recently have come from the slums and ghettos of the western world.

3—He believed his supply lines impregnable and sold the Israeli short, anticipating no cut-off of offensives as they were able to stage.

Gambled On Promises
4—He gambled on promises of all-out support from the states of the Arab league, a hope which proved to be a crushing disappointment in most cases.

5—He must have believed that the Israelis had little or nothing to offer against the well-trained Egyptian air force, with its squadrons of fine Spitfire fighting planes.

When the Negev desert came, Farouk had no recourse but to fall back on his refusal to invoke British assistance as the principal cause.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

What is a cuckoo-pit?
Would you believe it? I have lived a half century without knowing what a cuckoo-pit is. And I would probably have finished my earthly existence without ever finding out, if it weren't for crossword puzzles.

Furthermore, you would probably never have known what the meaning of cuckoo-pit is if I weren't such an ardent crossword puzzle fan, and if one of my readers had not offered to bet me that I could not write a column about the dictionary.

If you are a crossword puzzle fan, or rather fanatic, as I am, you and the dictionary become inseparable.

My doctor asked me a few days ago whether I had any hobbies. "Crossword puzzles," I replied without a moment's hesitation. "I do regular puzzles and acrostics and double-acrostics. I do puns and anagrams and every other kind of puzzle I can lay my hands on." "You call that a hobby?" my doctor queried. "Sounds more like a disease to me."

Well, my crossword puzzle told me to find a four-letter word which means "cuckoo-pit."

So I looked it up. "Cuckoo-pit," n. A European arum (Arum maculatum) with erect spathe and short purple spadix.

There you are. That's what a cuckoo-pit is.

An arum, I know it is an arum, not just because the dictionary said so, but because it fitted that four-letter space in the crossword puzzle and made the rest of the thing easy.

Of course, I don't know what an arum is, or a spathe, or a spadix. But one of these days I am going to find out.

In the meantime, however, I realized what a wonderful adventure dictionary can be and how little I know about my own language and the world in general.

For instance, right above cuckoo-pit I found the word "cuckoo-flower."

What kind of flower is a cuckoo-flower?

It isn't a flower at all. It is a spurge. No, I am not going to tell you. Why spoil your fun?

And directly under "cuckoo-pit" appeared "cuckoo spit." Do you know? I didn't.

I looked a little further. My dictionary has 1275 pages. The above mentioned words appear on page 245.

There are 59 definitions on that one page. Of 20 of them I didn't know the meaning!

And I am a college man who is supposed to have a better than average knowledge of English!

Let me give you just a few more from the same page: Cryptoclastic. Ctenophore. Cubature. Cucking. Toot. Cuculiform. Cucumber tree.

I guess my reader was right. You can't write a column about the dictionary.

It would take a library to do it justice. (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

POOR JACK

Oh, there was a man and he had a horse,
And the horse's name was Jack;
He worked year in and he worked year out
Till he darn near broke his back.

Says the man to the horse, "Now look here Jack,
I'll work for me I'll do,
You tell me what to do for thirty years,
And you'll get this when you're through.

A nice, big field all filled with grass,
And a stall that will make you smile;
But twenty-nine years don't go with me,
A miss is as good as a mile."

So poor Jack smiled as a good horse should,
And did his best each day;
And he got his hash and his pork and beans,
Excuse me, I mean his hay.

Ten years rolled by with twenty more to do,
And Jack he heaved a sigh;
When I've finished up this thirty years,
I'll be about ready to die.

Ten more rolled round, and his teeth wore out,
And his feet went on the bum;
I guess I'll lose that field of grass
And that nice stall, by gum.

He worked five more, twenty-five in all;
And then played out, alas!
And he lost that stall and hay and all,
And that nice big field of grass.

And Jack went out and he told each horse,
That he met as he went along;
And the man stood there leaning on his gate,
And he sang that same old song.

In the same old words and the same old tune
"I'll tell you what I'll do,
You work for me for thirty years,
And you'll get this when you're through.

As he stood and sang his song,
And he scratched his head and wondered,
What ever could be wrong.

Now if you had a horse that worked for you
Full five and twenty years;
Would you turn him out or pension him off?
Ah Uncle! Why those tears.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Acheson Faces Difficult Task

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Few men in American public life have had the opportunity and, at the same time, the burden or responsibility that now falls on Dean Acheson. The new secretary of state will enter office with the confidence and friendship of the president and responsible leaders in congress.

In the department he takes over he will find associates with whom he had worked on intimate terms while he was under secretary. One of the advantages in Acheson's appointment is that he begins with a broad range of experience and background.

Worked Well Together
He was in part responsible for the appointment of George F. Kennan to head the department's planning staff. Contrary to rumors circulated since the president appointed Acheson, the two men worked well together. In fact, when Acheson's good friend, Justice Felix Frankfurter, gave him a dinner at the time of his retirement, one of two close associates present from the department was Kennan. The other was Charles E. Bohlen, now counselor of the department. Bohlen, regarded as one of the ablest and most knowledgeable experts on foreign affairs, particularly in the Russian sphere.

Era Of Hysteria
Reflecting the era of hysteria and fear now happily passing, Acheson's critics have directed most of their suspicion at the possibility he might "appease" Soviet Russia. To those who follow most closely his work as assistant secretary and under secretary that was patently absurd.

Their fear is not that he will appease Russia but that he may fail to explore all the avenues, however dim and uncertain, that might lead to a negotiated armistice or, at any rate, a truce ending the cold war. To be resolute and yet completely unyielding at a sign of change from the Kremlin is Acheson's difficult position.

How watchful and alert he must be, while maintaining the firm course of American policy, we can know from the past. When the Russians in the spring of 1939 decided to change their approach to Nazi Germany, they did not come marching into Berlin with flags and trumpets.

Seek To Improve Trade
An unimportant diplomat in the Soviet embassy in Berlin gave a hint to the German foreign office of a desire to improve trade relations. The significance of that hint was immediately understood and the foreign office prepared the way for negotiations that led to the Nazi-Soviet pact of August, 1939. While that is not a happy example, it is nonetheless indicative of Russian methods.

One difficulty faced by any American secretary of state is that public opinion has come to expect him to be Machiavelli. Metternich, St. John and Superman all rolled into one. In other words, we expect the secretary and something called "foreign policy" to solve the world's ills, even when the world (Continued on Page Eight)

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Washington is a little vexed with Eva Peron's timing. She was not expected to send clothing for the district's needy children during our most lavish inauguration.

And the state department is amazed at the Argentine gift. We haven't sent them anything in 10 years except sharp notes and Spruille Braden.

Of course a little resentment attaches to the needy children. They have no right to be needy at home when there are so many people abroad to be aided.

But assistance is beginning to work two ways now. France is sending us a trainload of gifts and African tribesmen have gotten up a little fund to convert Chicago to Christianity.

Anywhen when the inauguration is out of the way we can get back to celebrating national gift week which arrived too late to influence the national budget.

The Steel Expansionists

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Political wishing is often father to the thought, and it is not strange that those who make changes in the American economic system are quickest to think they see flaws in the status quo.

This is notably true in the present controversy over steel production. Prophets of the More Abundant Life, which now goes by the name of the Welfare State, are impatient at the President's idea of making another survey into the steel output. They want him to assume, on present evidence, that a critical shortage does exist, and they say the time is at hand—now, today—to stimulate the production by government loans, partnership and even ownership.

Let Good Enough Alone

Believers in our existing method of supply-and-demand economy have urged the President to let good enough alone, to take the industry's word for it that the situation is well in hand.

Mr. Truman seems to have chosen the middle course. But he has not pleased either side by his plan to make another survey. The expansionists are contending that this is a waste of time. The conservatives, while they prefer the survey to precipitate action, are fearful that the survey commission, when appointed, will include men and theories of the wishful thinking school. To tell the gospel truth, some of them fear that Mr. Truman has already made up his mind. They suspect that the pending survey is mostly intended to prepare Congress and the public for a Tru Deal drive to control, if not command, steel production in America.

Oddity of Situation

One of the oddities of the situation is that the most opinionated steel expansionists do not come from the Commerce Department which would normally provide experts on the subject. The most vocal and influential expansionists are Assistant Secretary C. Girard Davidson of Interior, Assistant Secretary John W. Gibson of Labor and Louis H. Bean, an economist in the Agriculture Department.

Bean, as was set forth in a previous column, is the man with the charts, the statistics and the theories. An agriculturist, he thinks and talks of steel in terms of a consumer commodity, like wheat. "Babies," he likes to say, "need milk, shoes and two-thirds of a ton of steel per year." Since the birth-rate is rising by about one per cent of the total population, Bean thinks we need a steadily increasing steel output. According to his figures, every American worker also needs 1.8 tons-per-year if the country is to maintain full employment. The worker-to-ratio is far below Bean's figure at present, but we still have full employment. "We also have inflation," says Bean, "which is another form of unemployment." He predicts further inflation and a falling off of jobs unless we promptly step up steel production from 88 million tons annually to about 104 tons, thereafter keeping pace with the growing population.

Seem To Have Acceptance

Bean's theories are worth exploring because they seem to have met with substantial acceptance at the White House.

Carrying his line a little further, Bean insists that steel-makers need not worry about over-production. Steel, he contends, can be stored the way wheat is stored, if a temporary surplus occurs in any one year. Would he, then, set up a parity-price system to protect steel-makers, like farmers, against price slumps? No, says Bean, because steel-making is largely confined to 12 large companies and not comparable to farming.

Violent reaction to the Bean theories is not confined to the steel industry which, of course, wishes he would confine his thinking to agriculture. One hot-bed of anti-Bean sentiment exists in the Bureau of Mines, Interior Department, and another exists among the research staff of the Commerce Department. A composite rebuttal to his theories begins by stating that there is no analogy between steel and wheat. The first is produced "on order" and in a hundred different forms. The latter comes out of the earth in native form. Bean's figures are dismissed on the argument that past use of steel is no index to future demands. The country will not build many more railroad lines or skyscrapers. Automobiles may tend to become lighter instead of heavier, as in the past. New industries are finding new material, like aluminum, to replace steel. And the only way to "store" steel is to leave the ores in the ground, according to the anti-Bean thinkers.

But the belief exists that logic and hard-fact will not dissuade the steel expansionists. They are thinking in terms of political creed, it is said, and not in terms of factual economics. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

PEACE

Peace is something that we pray for as the heart's supreme desire. It's that state of calm we long for when the nerves and body tire. It's what preachers tell in sermons man should struggle to attain. But I sometimes sit and wonder if the wish for peace is vain? For the only calm I know of, after all is done and said, is that hour of glorious quiet when the children are in bed.

It's a joy to see them happy. When they're healthy they are rough. But there always comes the moment when of noise you've had enough.

It's good to see them tussle with each other on the floor. But an hour of what is plenty and you don't want any more. When the last good night is spoken and upstairs they're being led, Sweet peace that they're following after they are safely tucked in bed.

When she's picked up all their playthings and their paints and bits of chalk. Says the mother: "Well, that's over! We can hear each other talk!" And: "I must be getting older," grandpa solemnly observes.

"For the children's constant shrieking seems to get upon my nerves. And their rough and tumble playing holds a danger that I dread. But I love that hour of quiet when they're safely tucked in bed."

ETHER FOR DRIVERS?

In New York City and Washington simultaneously, hot arguments are developing over whether radios should be permitted in taxicabs. The City Hack Bureau in Gotham has already issued an order for the 1,000 taxis that still have radios to get rid of them in a week.

In the nation's capital, Prosecutor Clark King says listening to the radio violates an ordinance requiring drivers to give "full time and attention" to their driving. (So presumably, does conversation.)

In New York, a taxi spokesman says not a single accident in recent years could be blamed upon a radio. In Washington, Mr. King cited the testimony of a defendant who failed to get out of the way of fire trucks because the radio prevented him from hearing the sirens. Another driver, he said, unconsciously increased his speed from 25 to 50 miles an hour during a tense movement in a radioed baseball game.

What could conceivably happen to the driver listening to race results when he has picked a winner?

A representative of the Automobile Association of America, horning into the argument via Washington, says there are many advantages to an auto radio. On the highway, for instance, it helps keep a driver awake. But he agreed that the driver who listens to a radio in heavy traffic is an "extremely careless driver."

No state has laws which forbid listening to the radio while driving. But auto deaths have approached 40,000 in the United States in a single year. That figure is slight evidence that driving still isn't so simple that added distractions do not matter.

There is no law against having a radio in a car and listening to it. By the wise driver is careful how he uses it.

UNIFORM AIR APPROACH SYSTEM

President Truman's recent touch and go "blind" landing at Washington Airport has touched off new congressional pressure on the government to perfect and install a uniform instrument approach system at all big airports.

The problem of landing an airplane under zero-zero weather conditions has been under study for 15 years. Politics and interdepartmental wrangling has retarded progress until today there is no accepted system.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has espoused the instrument landing system (ILS) with which the pilot lands the plane by guiding it down a "path" produced by radio on his instrument panel.

The armed services have plugged for ground-controlled approach (GCA) in which a radar-radio operator on the ground views the plane in a scope and tells the pilot what maneuvers to make to effect a safe landing.

Actually, the systems complement each other, but regulations prevent their use by commercial planes if conditions are less than 400-foot ceiling and one mile visibility. The president's plane came in on GCA with three-eighths of a mile visibility because it is operated by the Air Force which can set its own minimum standards in an emergency.

PLATOON SYSTEM STAYS

There has been much ado about the "platoon system" of substitution in college football since the end of the season. Coaches and sportswriters, long before the season of times a player could enter or leave the game was a red hot topic. The fans were just as vociferous, but being mere people their opinions weren't quoted publicly.

There is no doubt that some curious things came to pass. Large teams made it common practice to run in complete new units every time the ball changed hands. One All-American team for '48 included three men who had never or almost never, played on defense. A battle royal was forecast when the National Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee met to decide on the rules for 1949.

Then the committee, meeting in the salubrious and restful atmosphere of Palm Springs, Calif., decided, with hardly a ripple, to leave things substantially as they are. Many fans, who have yet to remember a similarly high-scoring, wide-open and razzle-dazzle season, are glad it turned out that way.

After all, the fans were entitled to plenty of action. They paid up to six dollars to watch some well-staged tilts.

Soviet writers demand of Red dramatic critics. Wouldn't that idea go over big on Broadway?

Another Soviet "Peace offensive" rumored. Our past experience indicates more offensive than peace.

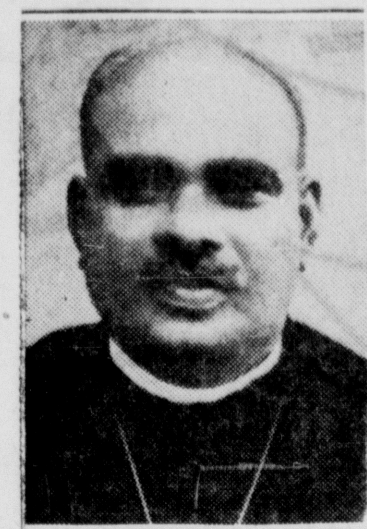

Swedish King opened Parliament with a speech only 149 words long. There's a man trying to build up popularity.

United Auto Workers put social gains ahead of pay—Headline. Most of us regard more pay as a pretty good social gain in itself.

Among interesting statistics gathered for 1948 are results of contests between motorcars and locomotives. The figures as reported stand: Locomotives, 4,500. Motorcars, 0.

Rules Provision Of Lewis' Union Contract Illegal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—A national labor relations board examiner today ruled illegal the union shop provision of John L. Lewis' control with the steel industry "captive" coal mines. William R. Ringer, the examiner, recommended that Lewis' United Mine Workers Union cease giving effect to the union shop clause in the agreement signed last summer with 18 steel-owned coal companies.

A similar provision in Lewis' agreement with commercial coal producers apparently also is illegal under Ringer's ruling, but it has never been challenged by the coal operators in an NLRB case.

There was no immediate comment from either Lewis or his union on Ringer's decision. The UMW chief is vacationing in Florida and his union headquarters refused to discuss the ruling. The UMW may be able, through legal maneuvers, to delay a final verdict until after Congress acts on repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. There have been indications that the union shop section of the law will be stricken from any new labor legislation.

Switzerland To Retain Neutrality

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Jan. 19.—(INS)—Gen. Henri Guisan, retired wartime commander-in-chief of the Swiss army, warned today that any attack on Switzerland, from whatever quarter, would "automatically throw us into the arms of the aggressor's opponents."

In an exclusive interview with International News Service, the 75-year-old soldier said that his country's historic policy of neutrality remains unchanged.

But he stressed that, as during World War II, Switzerland relies primarily upon her crack army of half-a-million well-trained and well-equipped citizen-soldiers to enforce the policy which has saved her from the scourge of war for generations.

It was that army, crouched behind impregnable mountain fortresses dominating the Alpine passes, which deterred the Nazis and Fascists from attempting to violate Swiss neutrality in World War II although they surrounded the little democracy on all sides.

Expresses Astonishment

Guisan expressed "astonishment" at the recent statement by Spain's Generalissimo Francisco Franco that Switzerland would be unable to remain neutral in a third world war. The general said: "The principle of Swiss neutrality is immutable. Potential aggressors know that they would meet with the resistance of both our army and our people."

"The Swiss army is being modernized but it will remain organized on the time-tested principle of the militia system, under which every citizen-soldier keeps his rifle, uniform and equipment—even his rats—in his home."

"With that system, we can mobilize our army in four or five days. 'Don't forget that every Swiss is born a soldier—when he reaches man's estate he receives a blank ballot and a rifle.'"

Guisan said, despite tension among the powers, he does not believe a third world war is imminent because new weapons of mass destruction like the atomic bomb make war an unprofitable enterprise for victor and vanquished alike.

He cited as other "peace factors" the growing military power of the United States and the material and psychological unreadiness of any power to precipitate another world conflict.

Pivotal Industrial Leaders Follow No Clear-Cut Trend This Morning

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The Stock Market was highly irregular in early dealings today with strength in airline issues a feature.

Pivotal industrial leaders followed no clear-cut trend. U. S. Steel and Chrysler were slightly higher, while General Motors, General Electric and Montgomery Ward were fractionally lower.

Oils were mixed with Ohio and Standard of New Jersey in the minus column and Socony Vacuum up one-eighth at 17.

Rails also were spotty. Atchafalaya and Pennsylvania chalked up small gains while New York Central and Chesapeake and Ohio slipped fractionally.

The bond market held narrowly with second-grade rail issues recording small advances.

Body Of Marine Arrives Thursday

Pvt. James L. Martin's Remains En Route To City From Pacific Area

Body of Pvt. James L. Martin, aged 17 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Grannis, 205 North Cedar street, will arrive at the Zehner funeral home, North Beaver street, Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Friends may call Thursday evening 7 to 9 o'clock and Friday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Pvt. Martin, a member of the U. S. Marine Reserves, was killed in action on July 1, 1943, at Tutuila island. He entered the service in August 1942 and was sent to Samoa island in April 1943.

Pvt. Martin attended St. Mary's parochial school, Aiken school and Ben Franklin junior high school, and also one year at the Beaver Falls senior high school.

In addition to his parents, he leaves brothers and sisters: Lawrence, William, Harry Raymond, Patricia, Kathleen and Laurel Mae. Requiem mass will be offered Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's church, and burial will follow in St. Mary's cemetery.

BOARD MEMBERS ARE ELECTED AT YWCA MEETING

The first Victory liner, the ships reconverted for transporting GI's abroad.

When traveling in Spain, she and her friends fell into conversation with a Spaniard about freedom. "Yes," he said, "they had freedom." But they soon learned that his conception of freedom was entirely different from theirs. He could not conceive a state of affairs where one would be allowed to criticize his government.

Miss Metzner told of many personal experiences, which were of great interest, and frequently amusing. Miss Metzner said that most of the young women employed by the State Department at that time were private secretaries, as she was, to some attaché, in the department. Most of her work was interviewing business men from this country wanting to travel in Switzerland, many with a desire to purchase Swiss clocks, while the Swiss business men she interviewed were anxious to know how and where to get nylon hose when in United States which is an interesting sight.

Clothes for children from infants to six years of age were handed in. The deadline for this is February 1. However, the Y kindly states that there is no need for painted shoes or shoes with heels. Miss Metzner said when in Europe neither she nor her friends could purchase shoes, unless they were made to order. This was due to the width of the shoes.

Board of Directors had a short meeting afterwards to discuss and then accept the recommendation from the Ways and Means committee for National Convention that each Board member try to raise $5 or more for helping to send delegates from New Castle. The Convention is to be March 7-14, in San Francisco.

States, Russia, Great Britain and France rejected a plea by the Chinese government to mediate. The Chiang Kai-shek government made the plea following a Communist "peace ultimatum" issued a week ago.

The terms of the Red peace offer were punishment of war criminals, abrogation of the present Chinese constitution, confiscation of "bureaucratic capital," reform of the "reactionary army," enforcement of land reform, complete reform of the government, abrogation of "traitorous" treaties with other countries and a political conference without participation of "reactionary elements."

There was no immediate announcement of who will be sent to the peace parley, but it was generally believed that Chang Chih-Chung will serve as chief mediator for the Nationalists.

Motorists Given Suggestions To Avoid Dangers

Motorists were warned today by R. B. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation—A. A. A. against opening a door on the left side of a vehicle into traffic and pulling away from a curb into traffic without proper precautions.

"These two common and frequent bad habits practiced by many motorists are responsible for a number of accidents which could otherwise be avoided," the official of the PMF, which represents 59 member AAA automobile clubs in the state declared.

"No motorist with any thought of courtesy to the other driver or with any thought to the safety of himself and others would indulge in either of these habits which are often fatal," Mr. Maxwell said.

"Not only is the practice of opening a door into traffic a fatal mistake," he explained, "but it is also evidence of contributory negligence under the law."

"Considered by law as endangering others," Mr. Maxwell said, "pulling away from a curb into the path of oncoming traffic is also an extremely dangerous driving practice to be avoided. The motorist should first look back to ascertain that no traffic is approaching from the rear and place no dependence on an arm signal as a safety measure."

"In order to avoid accidents drivers should never indulge in either of these bad and extremely dangerous practices," the PMF official urged.

"Motorists should make it a rule to always get out of a car on the side closest to the curb and never pull away from a curb unless absolutely certain no traffic is approaching from the rear or that such traffic is at a reasonably safe distance to do so," he concluded.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The terrible-tempered Mr. Monty Wooley arrived very late for a dinner party, limping. He explained, "That miserable dog in my new picture bit me in the leg just as I was leaving the studio. I kicked the brute down a whole flight of stairs."

Most of the guests sympathized, but David Selznick, murmured, "I'd like to hear the dog's side of that story."

Edward Everett Horton once asked Wooley, "How do you like children?" Wooley answered, "Well done."

Schiller, in his biography of Frederick the Great, tells of the monarch's visit to a Potsdam prison. One prisoner after another assured him that he was innocent, and the victim of a frame-up. Finally one man, however, looked down at the floor and said, "Your Majesty, I am guilty, and richly deserving punishment."

Frederick bellowed for the warden. "Free this rascal and get him out of our prison," he ordered, "before he corrupts all the noble innocent people in here."

Flier Missing For Five Days Located

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Jan. 19.—(INS)—A Granby, Colo., flier missing five days was found alive Tuesday on a snow-covered mesa 25 miles northeast of Vernal, Utah. Lt. Col. Rex Howell, commander of the 4th Civil Air Patrol group at Grand Junction, said the pilot, William H. Harrison, was spotted by a CAP search plane this morning. Harrison, who operates an airport at Granby, became lost last Wednesday while returning to Grand Junction after flying a passenger to Rock Springs, Wyo. He had filed no flight plan and his absence was not reported until Sunday when his wife became alarmed and notified Col. Howell.

Report About 1,850,000 Marriages In U.S. During 1948

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—There were about 1,850,000 marriages in the United States during 1948, it is estimated by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. Although this represents a decline from the total of nearly 2,000,000 in 1947 and a falling off of about one-fifth from the all-time high of 2,300,000 in 1946, the 1948 total is still the third highest in the country's history.

"The most significant factor in keeping the marriage rate at a high level has been the satisfactory condition of employment prevailing during the year," the statisticians report. "The marriage rate is apparently returning to the normal peacetime pattern, in which annual fluctuations are influenced in large measure by business conditions."

The decline in 1948 marriages from the 1947 level was country-wide, being relatively greatest in the South Atlantic and east-south-central cities and least for those in the northeast. Of the cities with a population of 1,000,000 or more at the time of the 1940 census, Detroit's decline was greatest at 10.8 per cent. New York's decrease was 3.2 per cent, Chicago's was 5.2 per cent, Philadelphia's was 5.2 per cent and Los Angeles' was 8.2 per cent.

"Present indications are that 1949 will show another decline in marriages," the statisticians forecast. "This is to be expected after the record-breaking figures of recent years."

HINTS FOR PICTURE HANGING

"Will you give me some hints for hanging pictures? I have several silhouettes, some small pictures, some with dark mats and some with light mats."

Answer: Silhouettes and miniatures look well when placed in groups around a mantelpiece or similar point of interest. In order to place them so, the profiles must all face in the same direction.

Should your face opposite directions, hang them in pairs so that they "look at each other."

Whenever possible, group your small pictures together rather than distribute them variously around the wall, keeping in mind, however, that pictures with light mats and those with dark mats do not create a harmonious effect when placed in close proximity.

Take care that you do not hang your pictures too high. They should be grouped with your furniture and made a part of the whole by placing them low enough to meet the level of the eyes of a person of moderate height.

Your living room should not be decorated with too many pictures of the members of your family. These will be more appropriately hung in your upstairs rooms. Of course, an interesting oil painting would be an exception to this rule.

as its decorative value would be an asset to any room.

Plain frames for your pictures are in better taste than those of elaborate design. A frame must never be so striking that it distracts attention from the picture within it.

Most pictures (except those requiring forward tilting to catch the light) look best when hung flat against the wall. Fasten the wire on the back of the frame near the top instead of the middle.

Snowfalls in the city of Chicago average about 38 a year; New York has an average of about 35.

Lions Hear Talk On Americanism

Worrell M. Jones Of Veterans Administration Office Is Speaker

RECALLS WORDS OF PROPHETS

Substituting for the scheduled speaker of the day, Lion Worrell M. Jones, officer in charge of the U. S. Veterans Administration office here, gave a fine talk on "What Makes America Great," at the Lions luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday.

Calling attention to one of the obligations Lion International has enjoined on its membership, to promote better understanding among nations, and to put forward those things, which have made America the great nation it is today, Mr. Jones stated that an intelligent man ought to be able to think without confusion and to act accordingly.

Elements Not All Good
America, he pointed out, is a nation which has character and one which possesses intelligent leadership. A good American goes along with those things which are right, not for any personal gain, but for the satisfaction of a deed well done.

However, America is not made up entirely of good elements. There are two types of government, a democracy, where the people are governed by their own wills, and that other government by decree, where the people are subject to the whims of the state.

He hearkened back to the eighth century B. C., when the Hebrew nations rebelled against God, and of the words of the four great prophets, pointing out that man owes a responsibility to God, that human beings do have rights, and their soul belongs to God. All of these, Russia, the leading nation of rule by decree, repudiates.

Changes are beginning to steal over America, however, which may portend the downfall of our civilization, he said. There are more Communists and fellow travelers among the teaching fraternity of the country, than any other branch of society, he stated. Communist leaders are endeavoring to put their teachers into the one-room rural schools. Ideals are being taught in schools, where religion is forbidden, he stated.

Our nation was founded in religious precepts, which has been reiterated by such great leaders as Lincoln and Roosevelt, but we are in danger of losing sight of this fact for more material things, which may lead to our downfall, he stated in conclusion.

IN VIEW OF NEWS

that at no time did the Egyptian army in the Negev have more than a week's reserve of ammunition, certainly insufficient to counter the courageous lightning raids in force which sent the Israelis rocketing across the Egyptian border.

Anything But Sympathetic
In the flushed enthusiasm of their new-found independence and hard-won victories, the Israelis were anything but sympathetic toward the Egyptians.

This feeling was shared in many places throughout the world and each successive shaft of ridicule was a deep hurt to all Arabs. They have had great armies and great fighters throughout the ages. Even now there are few armies of the world that would care to tangle with the intricacies of Arab warfare without plenty of advance training. The Turks learned of its courage and ingenuity in the first world war when they faced the famed Col. T. E. Lawrence.

And other military combinations learned centuries ago to use a great deal of circumspection in match arms on even terms with men who are happy to die in battle as such a death assures them highest honors after death in the heavens of the prophet.

Israel's present gesture of military courtesy to the Egyptians at Fulata thus may prove immensely valuable.

The Arabs always will give and take when their honor and probity—personal or national—are respected. It is likely that Israel's action has lifted the Jewish state in Arab minds from the status of a crude neophyte to that of a nation among nations.

is in the midst of a revolutionary change as it is today.

That attitude was implied in much of the criticism directed at that great American, George C. Marshall, who now retires. He was handicapped, it was said, by the limitations of his military background. Of course, he was. But the critics too often overlooked the qualities of greatness that carried him through a difficult transition period.

The point is that every human being has limitations of one kind or another. There is no saintly magician who can resolve every dilemma. Acheson's qualifications and capacities are so apparent that no one should be in the least surprised when the limitations of what he can do also become obvious.

The Grand Army of the Republic was first formed in Decatur, Ill., April 6, 1866, at the suggestion of Dr. B. F. Stephenson.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop.

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit . . . with Carter's Pills . . . and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 35¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

THE FLY COST OF LIVING

Bugs and lice and ticks and fleas and flies are the cause of a lot of discomfort and disease.

Flies are the carriers of many diseases both of animals and humans.

They are a nuisance and a hindrance in the dairy business.

When flies are destroyed by some of the new chemicals, the cows do better and give more milk.

Henry Ford helped to rid our cities of flies by doing away with horses.

A clean tidy city should have very few flies.

Screens help some but it is better to have no flies.

Hollywood—About two miles of motion picture film are required for a two-hour projection performance on the screen.

Paris—Process of preserving food by packing it in air-tight cans was discovered by Nicholas Appert, a Frenchman, in 1795.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"Why, Mommy, Why?"
Along somewhere in the third to the fifth year, most children develop a persistent question-asking tendency. No matter what parents say or ask the response is "Why?" Gradually this may become irritating and we are likely to get a little "hard-boiled" in our answers. At the same time we often feel that we ought to try to answer the questions asked.

What then, should we do when our Johnnies and Marys begin the "Why?" technique?
First of all, it is important to recognize that there are at least two different kinds of questions. One is that through which children are trying to learn about everything around them. It grows out of their natural curiosity.

But there is also another kind of "Why?" This sort of "Why?" is based on the child's feeling of need to have mother or father concentrate on him.

Insofar as possible, the first kind of question should be answered as directly as possible. Ignoring the youngster or becoming impatient with him will make him feel that it isn't a good idea to try to find out about things. Though it takes time, that time is well spent.

If it seems clear that question-asking isn't really seeking answers but attention, this should not be ignored, but takes as a sign that the child needs more of us, that we are letting him down in some way. In either case then, the questions which children ask should be treated seriously.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil, NO harmful drugs. NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments—highly recommended by the medical profession. FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hippocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results
MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ill. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their mineral-rich waters. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thonon in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best.

Steep Prices For Inaugural View

Houses Can Be Rented For $500-A-Day, Complete With Servants

CAN SEE PARADE AT $12 PER WINDOW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—Washington is combining southern hospitality with a liberal dose of Yankee horse-trading for the week of President Truman's inaugural celebration.

And even the chief executive must be glad that he can put up his relatives and close friends at Blair house for the occasion.

For a mere $500-a-day a visitor can rent a house in the capital complete with servants. Or the same $500 can rent a house 30 minutes from the downtown area for a whole week—with no servants mentioned.

$12 Per Window

If he likes, the visitor can watch the inaugural parade go by from the Pennsylvania avenue windows of the Raleigh hotel—at a fee of $12 per person which includes a 20 per cent amusement tax.

On the other hand, the inaugural housing committee points with pride to a Washingtonian who offered them a room for listing at a daily rental of just 25 cents.

Many capital residents offered their apartments for rent for the day or the week of the inauguration through the classified ads without revealing the tariff.

The average rent for a one-bedroom apartment for a week, however, is about $225; for a two-bedroom apartment, $250.

One advertiser, who seems to have prudently promoted a slight corner on the housing market, is offering several apartments of unspecified location and dimensions for one week at from $175 to $200 each.

All in all, the sunny south seems to have overcome its aversion to paying guests since the days that went with the wind.

Must Keep Tarpaulin On Garbage Trucks

Richard I. Davis, health director, today warned garbage carriers that unless they keep a tarpaulin over their truck while it is carrying garbage they will be arrested under provisions of a city ordinance and upon conviction be fined. He said the purpose of keeping on the tarpaulin is for sanitary purposes and to keep papers from blowing off the truck, and also because of the stench.

Violent Winds Cause Damage In Detroit Area

DETROIT, Jan. 19.—(INS)—Violent winds of near hurricane velocity lashed through Detroit and southeast Michigan early today causing damages expected to total millions of dollars.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Detroit reported winds of 50 miles per hour at 2 a. m., with gusts ranging as high as 75 miles per hour.

Lighting and communications were disrupted, hundreds of trees uprooted and thousands of homes and store windows were broken. The violent gale left store merchandise strewn on the city streets, ripped roofs from homes and factories and tossed parked airplanes around like model aircraft.

ARMED SERVICES HAVE DISPLAY AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The armed services swung into a full scale show today that is going to satisfy a lot of children of all ages who may not be able to see the president or even the inaugural parade Thursday.

Spread out over the Washington Monument grounds is more army, navy, air force, marine and coast guard equipment than was ever before collected in one spot for public showing.

Exhibits range from small caliber ammunition to a 40-ton truck. There are captured enemy weapons and the latest American aircraft. And it is all free for observation and close examination.

Some youngsters are making examination so close that it amounts to study by the touch system. They have a tendency to swarm over the tanks and under the truck, dragging their less agile parents with them.

Only the more fragile and easily damaged exhibits are roped off.

The rest are there to examine at close range.

MUGGS AND SKEETER

By WALLY BISHOP

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19.—Robert Cummings, a gent who should know, says Greta Garbo is not as shy as she is reputed to be. The silent Swede is not shy—she is downright bashful.

Cummings has most of the movie moguls belling their brains out with envious smiles at her pates simply because he has Garbo under exclusive contract to make a picture in Italy sometime next summer.

"And I hardly even know her," confessed Bob. "She is the most genuinely retiring person I've ever met."

Interview By Proxy
The aloof actress, who emulates Olympic track star Pel-Mel Patton everytime, a newsmen hoves into her immediate vicinity, nevertheless gave out with an interview by proxy today—with Cummings serving as the middleman.

Garbo, said Cummings, thinks "Queen Christina" is the best flicker she ever played in. That was produced by Walter Wanger, who holds a king-size interest in Cummings' new production outfit, United California Pictures.

It's Up To Greta

Bob has played opposite some of the slickest chicks in the business—his latest was "bitter victory"—but he doesn't believe he will be Garbo's leading man.

"We're planning on leaving for Italy in April," he said, "and hope to have the cameras rolling by May or June. The script is still rather uncertain, but it probably will be the story of George Sand.

"Miss Garbo's contract calls for her to handpick her leading man—and maybe she won't want me." Bob, however, is quite content to be producer of the picture. And he will work with Garbo in pre-production screen tests even if he doesn't get to hold hands and whisper sweet nothings to her in the actual film.

Hedy Did All Right
Cummings dished out $200,000 to glamorous Hedy Lamarr for her role in "Reign of Terror," first film produced by his independent company. Hedy also wrangled a juicy slice of the profits plus her wardrobe from the flicker.

In addition, Miss Lamarr forced Cummings to buy the material for her fancy duds from her own private stock of fabrics, and wound up with a double profit on the deal.

The actor-producer said: "Garbo has even a more fabulous contract for the picture we'll make in Italy. I'm sworn to secrecy regarding its terms, but I can tell you that she'll receive more money than any actress has ever been paid before on such a comparatively short-term job."

"She hasn't made a picture for eight years," he said, "but her name is still box-office magic."

Brundage's Trip East Is Delayed By Severe Storms

Edward L. Brundage, formerly superintendent of the National Radiator plant here, is visiting in New Castle. He came east from his home in Salmon, Idaho, to a Cleveland hospital where she is being treated. Ordinarily the trip from Salmon, Idaho, would take four days by car. This trip took ten days due to the terrific blizzards in the far west.

Mr. Brundage saw the results of many accidents on his trip east but was fortunate in coming through unscathed.

Christ Lutherans To Go To Pittsburgh

Western Pennsylvania Missouri Synod Lutherans will assemble at First Trinity church, Pittsburgh, next Sunday at the mid-winter Bible conference. A fellowship supper will follow the afternoon session, led by Rev. Oscar Feucht, well known Lutheran Bible leader. The American Bible Society film, "The Book For The World Of Tomorrow," will be shown in the evening.

Christ Lutheran congregation, of New Castle, is one of the more than 40 Lutheran churches, sponsoring the Bible conference. Pastor H. D. Poellot plans to attend with a group of members of Christ Lutheran congregation.

BETTER performance: Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, perform at their best because this car is so thoroughly streamlined.

Veterans' Bonus Bill Now Before State Legislature

Many Other Measures Also Presented—Legislature Resumes On Monday

HARRISBURG, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The $500,000,000 veterans' bonus bill, already approved by the 1947 general assembly, was introduced Tuesday in the senate and will be reported by committee for floor consideration.

The legislation, in effect, authorizes a bond issue to cover bonus payments expected to start late this year.

Under the constitution, the proposal must be adopted by two separately elected legislatures and then approved by a majority of the electorate.

Also reported for initial consideration in the senate was legislation raising the governor's $18,000-a-year salary to $30,000 and making similar proportionate adjustments in the pay of other administrative officials.

Adjourn to Monday

Both houses adjourned following short sessions until Monday when the senate will convene at 4 p. m. and the house 30 minutes later.

Prior to adjournment, Rep. Warner M. DePuy (R) Pike, introduced bills which would double the 72-ounce limit on beer sales for off-premise consumption and allow taprooms to remain open until 2 a. m. Sunday.

Rep. Delbert W. Dalrymple (R) Erie, tossed in a bill which would redefine the status of hotels in the state liquor code by increasing the number of bedrooms necessary to qualify for a hotel license.

Liberalization of the workmen's compensation law was recommended by Rep. James E. Lovett (R) Westmoreland in three bills. He proposed insurance for employers liable for workmen's compensation contributions, a state fund to underwrite employers' liability and protection for the fund.

Another Tax Repealer

Lovett joined with Rep. Anthony J. Petroskey (D) Westmoreland in offering another repealer aimed at the 1949 law broadening municipal tax bases.

The house military affairs committee reported for initial consideration a bill which would raise the permanent rank of the state adjutant general—who heads the Department of Military Affairs—from brigadier general to major general. Eleven other bills reported to the floor in the lower chamber covered sanitary regulations on a variety of foods ranging from milk to oysters.

Meat Institute Reports New Drop In Meat Prices

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—(INS)—The nation's housewives received good news today in the American Meat Institute's report that a new drop in the general price of wholesale meats will mean accompanying declines on the retail level.

The institute said wholesale meats dropped 20 per cent in price from last September's peak and retail declines were noted ranging from 13 to 26 per cent on various items.

The report pointed out that pork chops have dropped an average of 26 per cent, round steak 25 per cent, chuck roast 22 per cent, leg of lamb 17 per cent and lamb chops and hamburger 13 per cent.

Meanwhile, heavy selling by cattlemen Monday broke the market for steers to the lowest price level since May, 1947.

Losses in some kinds ranged to as much as $1 a hundred pounds.

Republicans Score Political Upset

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(INS)—Republicans scored the first political upset of the 81st Congress Tuesday afternoon when the GOP defeated an administration bill to exempt inauguration tickets from the federal amusement tax.

The vote was 45 for the bill, 47 against.

Democrats immediately tried for another test on a parliamentary move for reconsideration of the vote.

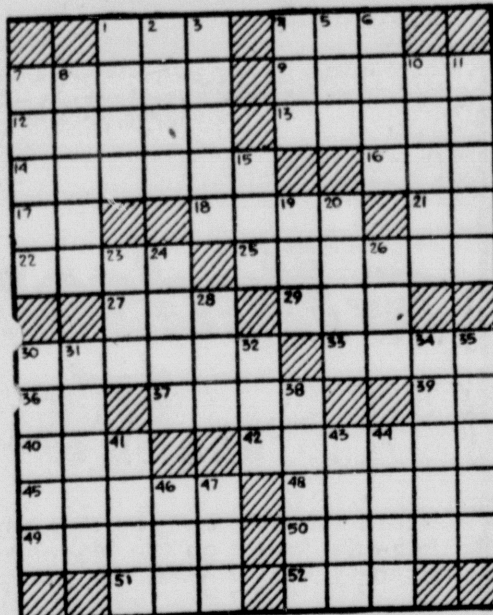

The Democratic defeat came after the senate had voted down GOP efforts to include in the exemption farm fairs, baby oil and stoves.

Elias Howe's invention of the sewing machine in 1846 revolutionized the shoe industry.

Resume Noon-Time Meetings At First Methodist Church

Beginning Thursday, and continuing each week, a beautiful noon-time meditation service will be held at First Methodist church from 12:05 to 12:30.

Last year these services were well attended by people of the community, and especially those who were in the downtown area on Thursday at noon. The service is meditative in nature, and brings the beauty of Christian worship with its peace and comfort to the one who attends the service.

These services were discontinued due to minor furnace difficulties in the church. These difficulties have now been overcome, and again it is possible to bring this service to the community. We invite you to pause and pray in the middle of the day. Each Thursday this service will be held from 12:05 to 12:30.

The ancient Aztecs grew tomatoes in their patches of Indian corn. The tomato is a native of Latin America.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

THERE WAS A TIME WHEN eels were in the Slippery Rock creek. Some were found at Kennedy's mill. Pike also existed there, like-wise bass and other game fish, according to W. C. Kennedy, veteran fisherman and hunter of 465 Neshannock avenue, who was among the veterans honored at the first annual banquet of the Lawrence County Council of Sportsmen.

Mr. Kennedy visited Here & There recently, and displayed a postcard photograph of Kennedy's dam, and mill, taken years ago, and oddity, printed in Germany. It was published by James C. Hutton apothecary of New Castle.

The venerable Mr. Kennedy told Here & There that his father operated a mill at Kennedy's dam for 28 years, moving to New Castle in 1888, hence W. C. spent his boyhood days along the Slippery Rock. "Every catch any eels in the Slippery Rock" the writer asked?

"Yes. The mill was run with turbine water wheels, and every now and then, an eel would be caught and choke the wheel. We had to fish it out," Mr. Kennedy replied.

"Every catch any muskies?"

"We caught pike and I believe we caught some muskies," he answered.

Mr. Kennedy said there were lots of fish in the creek, and displayed a photograph showing himself with a string of nice bass, one of which he recalled weighed 2½ pounds.

He recalled that, while a boy, a geologist of Pittsburgh visited his father's home, and stayed there a week or more while he surveyed the Slippery Rock. W. C. said the geologist told his father, Hoseny Kennedy, that in his opinion, the Slippery Rock creek once flowed west, before an eruption opened up a rocky channel at Kennedy's Mills, McConnell's Mills, and toward Wurttemberg.

The geologist told Mr. Kennedy's father that, it was his opinion that the swamp near Mt. Hermon church, along the Frew Mill road, was the west end or source of Big Run creek, and the east end was the source of Brush creek, which flows into the Slippery Rock.

Eleven years ago, Mr. Kennedy was injured in an automobile accident, from which he has never fully recovered. However, he was among those who occupied a seat at the honor table at the Sportsman's fete.

There are persons who believe a mountain lion will trail a man. The belief is erroneous, according to Sports Afield. . . Fred Schatzer, Budd Fleeger, Tom Boyle and others can scarcely await the time until the black suckers start running. . . The Chiefs meet tonight in the CIO hall, South Jefferson street, according to Lloyd McKinnon.

Ray Richards, policeman who was severely injured during a footballing trip and who has had a leave of absence since then, is now in California, another policeman, who is convalescing from an operation, has given up his proposed trip to the Pacific Coast. . . The Hambletonian, to be raced at Good Time park, Goshen, N. Y., August 10, will be worth $67,000. . . Joe Rick has his string of horses quartered at his farm, formerly the Fair Grounds. . . They say there is a new fishing rod on the market that can be telescoped from the reel.

Seek Transfer Of Boston Yanks

Would Transfer Boston Yanks To New York City, Bell Discloses

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—(INS)—National football league commissioner Bert Bell disclosed today that the transfer of the Boston Yanks franchise to New York City will be requested at the league's meeting in Chicago, Thursday.

Bell said the request must be approved by the other club owners before the transfer can be made. If Boston's move into New York is approved, he said, a new cycle for making schedules will be discussed.

The league owners will also receive a report from the rules committee which will meet Wednesday night. Under discussion are proposals regarding substitutions, plastic helmets, seating of players in parks, rules concerning roughing the passer, and others, he said.

Trade winds are blowing between the New York Yanks and the Cleveland Indians.

ankle injury to Wayne Emery. However, it does not detract in any way from the splendid performance of the entire Wampum team who played 32 minutes of inspired basketball without a single substitution.

Wampum took a 42 to 38 lead at the end of the third stanza and appeared on their way to victory with a 47 to 42 lead and five minutes left in the game. However, the North Beaver lads took time out to collect themselves and soon afterward jumped into a 48 to 47 lead on quick baskets by Brown, Brandt and Kerr.

Lewis Gets Clincher

Lewis put Wampum in the lead with a neat one hander with two minutes left. Armatorio added another but Kerr made it a 51-50 ball game with one minute and 30 seconds to go with an accurate flip from the right side. Schena added a foul and the Indians started to play a slow, deliberate offense, calculated to consume time.

Lewis broke into the open to score with a minute left to apply the clincher.

Lots of "ohs" and "ahs" were registered during the final minute of play when the Mounties missed on several desperation heaves.

Atmospheric conditions caused the floor to be extremely slippery. This hazard bothered both teams and is not an excuse for either club.

Wampum travels to Bessemer for another tough engagement Friday night and the Mounties are hosts to East Brook.

Don Reed Maintains Scoring Lead In Section With 16 Points, At Sharon

New Castle High basketball team was defeated at Sharon last night 49 to 35. The Tigers still maintain a home "jinx" on the locals.

Young Don Reed, aged played a brilliant game, scoring 16 of the New Castle points, running his Section 3 total to 63, which leads the sectional scoring. Libendorfer of Beaver Falls got 15 at Ellwood last night, to make his total 59.

Locals Never Ahead

New Castle was never ahead once in the game last night. At the outset, Sampson tied the count at 2-2, but from there it was Sharon all the way.

The Tigers led at the first period 13 to 9, and the half 26-17. New Castle could get but four points the third period to trail at the end of the third period 41 to 21.

The final period was New Castle's best outscoring the Tigers 14 to 8 but Sharon had a good many reserves in the game at this time. New Castle missed the aggressive playing of Tony Clarella who has a dislocated bone in his foot. Clarella hopes to get in the Farrell game here Friday. Phil Conti was chased in the final period on five fouls. Haines played a nice game at forward with seven points to his credit. Don Piccirillo had six points, dropping in four fouls and a field goal.

Listak-Jacobson Stars

Mike Listak and Whiskers Jacobson led the Tigers in scoring with 11 and 10 respectively, while Gene Sewell had nine, and Schell a reserve center had six.

Two Phils Have Signed Contracts

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19—(INS)—Two players who joined the Phils late last season were early birds today in returning signed contracts for 1949.

They are Hal Wagner, veteran catcher obtained from Detroit on waivers, and Granville Hamner, who replaced Eddie Miller at shortstop.

Two rookies, Bill Loos, an outfielder, and 19-year-old John Walls, a right-handed pitcher, also signed.

Sportsman's Council To Convene Friday

Lawrence County Council of sportsmen will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Ellwood City-Wampum Rod and Gun Club. The council will be guests of the "E C & W" organization. As this is election month for the members of the council a large attendance is expected at the meeting.

Youth Program To Be Launched

County Sportsman's Association To Teach Outdoor Life To Boys

Ecclesian hall was jammed with members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association when they held their meeting last night and decided to promote a youth program, and immediately a large number of fishermen and hunters volunteered their services as instructors.

Those who volunteered to help teach boys to bait fish, fly and plug cast, shoot rifles and shotguns, first aid work and conservation are: D. Emerick, "Pat" Patterson, John Kiefer, James Cypher, George Bolinger, Mr. Jackson, Casey Fruitt, Claire Stitt, Paul Crabie, Howard Price, Bob Graham and others whose names have not yet been obtained.

Chairman Fritz has called a meeting of the instructors for 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the association's farm.

Air Battle Scenes

After the business of the organization was transacted Chief Bonn, local navy recruiter, displayed motion pictures of air battles in the Pacific. They were taken of planes operating from the carrier Yorktown, and were some of the best air battle scenes yet witnessed here. County Commissioner Joe Travers procured Chief Bonn and his pictures and introduced him to the organization.

At the meeting of instructors Sunday, the instructors will decide several matters in connection with the youth program. It is the first sports organization here to adopt such a move, and it is expected to attract many youths and give them their first glimpse of outdoors sportsmanship.

At the end of the business session hotdogs, buns and coffee were served.

New Wilmington Nips East Brook

Greyhounds Spurt In Second Half To Take Two-Point Win; Garrett, Pontius Star

New Wilmington kept very much in the Section 23 pennant race by coming from behind to edge East Brook 40 to 38 in a real thriller on the Eagles home floor last night.

East Brook led 11 to 6 at the quarter and 20 to 10 at the half. However, the Eagles cagers overcame the 10-point deficit and tied the game at 34 all as the third period ended. The teams combined to score 30 points in the last quarter but the New Wilmington defense seemed more effective as the Greyhounds squeezed by with a 2-point win.

Bill Pontius, East Brook guard, and New Wilmington center, Mitch Garrett, shared scoring honors with 13 points each.

Lions Club Sponsoring Donkey Olympics Show

You have often heard the expression "funnier than a barrel of monkeys," well—the gigantic Donkey Olympics slated for the Arena on Wednesday January 26, sponsored by the New Castle Lions Club, will put that saying to shame.

City Councilman Richard I. Davis is general chairman, of the Tail Twisters Committee, putting on the show.

The Olympics are funnier than anything that has ever played New Castle before. You won't want to miss this show folks—bring the kiddies, they will get a lot of laughs, in fact, if you don't laugh at the antics of the Lions club on donkeys as they play basketball, polo, stage a boxing contest, an archery contest, a tug-of-war, and a "Lady Godiva Act" (the originator of the undress), and many other zany acts, then you had better see your doctor.

You'll Be Sorry

If you missed the donkey basketball game staged by the New Castle Lions and the Little Beaver Lions Club of Darlington last year, you were probably kicking yourself after your neighbor told you how funny it was, and now you will have a chance to see something that is even better.

The Lions will use the proceeds to further their blind action program. The price are—$1.00 for adults if tickets are bought in advance, tickets at the gate the night of the show will be $1.25 for adults, students and children admission is 50 cents, both advance and at the gate.

Only One Of A Kind

The Donkey Olympics the only show of its kind on the road today comes to New Castle from Media, Pa., and drew a mammoth crowd there and in Bristol, Pa., also. The Greenville, North Carolina people turned out 3,500 strong for the show and went away holding their sides. They saw a great laughing provoking two-hour entertainment.

Miss Minnie B. Riley, of Kansas City, Missouri, the home of the Donkey Olympics, is here in New Castle handling the promotion work, and the advance publicity.

Miss Riley is confident that the people of New Castle and Lawrence County, are in for a real treat next Wednesday evening. She has been instrumental in booking the show throughout the entire country, since its origination not too long ago.

Clamor For Return

The Donkey Olympics have played to sell-out crowds in California, Florida, Texas and many other states, and already the towns are clamoring for its return appearance.

For an evening that you'll long remember, plan to see the Donkey Olympics at the Arena Wednesday, January 26, and at the same time help a blind pal.

Nevoine With 22 Points In Game Tuesday At Bessemer, Brilliant Star

E. Nevoine blazed in 22 points as Union High Scotties handed the championship Bessemer team a neat 43 to 31 surprise last night at the Bessemer High floor. The Coach Charles James team looked very good.

Union led the first period 8 to 7, and at the half 21 to 19. It was in the final period that Union got hot and banged in 12 points to four for the Bessemers. A. Anderson led the Ciccone coached team with 11 points. Union played a whole of a game and controlled the backboards, with John Pishaw doing a great job. Defense played a fairly tight defensive game all the way. Union won the preliminary game 30-27.

Tony Stramella Leads Wolverines To Section 3 Triumph Over Beaver Falls

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 19—Tony Stramella led the Ellwood City High Wolverines to a stunning 38 to 35 upset of the favored Beaver Falls, at Lincoln gym. It was the second Section 3 win for the locals, the Ted Wallace coached team having previously trimmed Farrell.

The Tigers held a 11 to 7 lead the first period, and at the half the Tigers held a 17 to 16 lead. Ellwood trailed at the end of the third period 30 to 27. Stramella got going in the fourth period, "dumped" in seven points, and personally led the Wolverines, to their triumph. Ellwood won the final period 11 to 5, using a tight defense.

Stramella with 13 points led the winners in scoring, while Mantz had 10. Liebenдорfer led the Tigers in tallying 15 points.

Pro Footballers Are In Session

CHICAGO, Jan. 19—(INS)—National Football League magnates rode gleefully into Chicago today to give their All-America Conference rivals a decent burial, but the corpses were holding a meeting and could not be disturbed.

There was no indication that, by the time act two of the A.A.C.'s secret Chicago pow-wow disbanded, the All-America wouldn't consider itself as lively an organization as ever.

Indians Assume Section 23 Lead

Lewis And R. Armatorio Lead Wampum To Win Over Highly Touted "Mounties"

Wampum Hi Indians, unimpaired by press clippings and scoring records, defeated Mt. Jackson High 54 to 50 on the Wampum court last night in a close, thrilling ball game.

The win, Wampum's fifth straight in league play, puts Coach Butler Hennon's cagers at the top of the heap in the Section 23 title chase. New Wilmington and Mt. Jackson, with four wins and one loss apiece, are tied for the runner-up spot.

The "pore li'l boys" from Wampum had a Mountie scalp on their mind last night and knew exactly how to go about collecting it. Rarely did two points separate the two clubs and the intensity of the battle resulted in many hoarse and speechless voices among the capacity crowd.

Tie First Period

The teams were deadlocked 14-14 at the end of the first quarter and the Mounties assumed a 31-30 lead at the half. Ray Armatorio, slim Wampum guard, accounted for 12 of his team's markers in the first half. Ray simply outjumped boys several inches taller than himself under each basketball and most of his first-half baskets were "follow through" shots around the hoop.

Coach Hennon altered the Wampum offensive somewhat to start the second half and kept the Mountie defense spread. The strategy soon paid off as the Indian marksmen took one dribble around a Mountie defender and let go with extremely effective one handers. Allen Lewis accounted for 10 Wampum points in this manner during the second half. The little colored forward took individual scoring honors for the evening with eight field goals and a foul, good for 17 points. In addition he played a cool, accurate passing game on offense and was a real fighter on defense.

Mounties Out On Fouls

The Mounties lost Bill Emery, who had 16 points to top the losers, with two minutes remaining in the third period, because of five personal fouls. This hurt the Webster team plenty as did the
